CLIENT DISCLOSURE AND OFFICE POLICY STATEMENT

When people enter into any kind of relationship in which services are exchanged, it's a good idea to be clear about each person's rights and responsibilities. This agreement tells you what you can expect of me and what I can expect of you. Please read it carefully and be sure to ask me to explain anything you don't understand or that you have a concern about.

My Experience and License

I received my master's degree in counseling psychology in 2007 from The Seattle School of Theology and Psychology and since then, have worked with a wide variety of clients. Prior to becoming a therapist, my bachelor's degree was in pastoral studies, and I worked with youth and churches in Chicago, IL, Washington State, and Ireland.

As a therapist, from '06-'08, I worked with homeless families transitioning toward permanent housing. From '08-'13, I counseled men and women in residential drug/alcohol rehab and also provided out-patient therapy. From '13-'16, I worked with at-risk families facing crisis, such as homelessness, addictions, domestic violence, incarceration, and hospitalizations. I also worked with foster parents and children.

Counselors practicing for a fee in Washington State must be registered with the Department of Licensing. I am registered and also received state licensure in 2011, which requires additional education, training and supervision. I am a state Licensed Mental Health Counselor (#LH60209051).

Professional Practice and Orientation

Depending on your needs and the problems you want to work on, my therapeutic approach may include elements of Psychodynamic, Cognitive Behavioral, Family Systems, and/or Developmental Theory. The two therapeutic modalities I rely on most are called Internal Family Systems (IFS) and Emotionally Focused Therapy (EFT).

Have you ever said, “Part of me wants this, and part of me wants that?” With IFS therapy, I view each person as having an internal family made up of many parts. Parts of you are in pain, and parts try to avoid or extinguish pain. Many times, these parts are in conflict, and in therapy by nurturing a healthy inner relationship, we can better address the other external relationships in our lives. IFS is also an evidence based practice, which means it has undergone rigorous research to verify its efficacy.

Emotionally Focused Therapy is a experiential therapy that helps couples and families deescalate disconnecting patterns and form healthy attachment bonds in their relationships.

I encourage you to ask me questions about my orientation and approach to counseling and therapy.

Client Rights

Clients have the right to request a change in counseling approach, referral to another counselor, or termination of therapy at any time. If you have concerns about the course of treatment, please discuss them with me. Should you feel that I have been unethical or unprofessional, you may contact the Department of Licensing.

Appointments

Individual appointments are typically 50 minutes in length. It is important to be on time to your appointment as the time will not be extended beyond the scheduled time because of your late arrival. Your appointment is held exclusively for you. If you are unable to keep your appointment for any reason, you must give me at least 24 hours advance notice, otherwise you will be charged an $80 missed session fee for the time I have reserved for you. Insurance cannot be billed for missed sessions. Exceptions in the event of an emergency or unavoidable circumstance will be discussed.

Fees and Payments

I am a provider on some, but not all insurance panels. If you are planning on using your insurance for mental health services, please verify that I am contracted with your plan prior to the first visit. Emmaus Counseling Center's billing staff will submit claims to your insurance company following each office visit. My rate for those paying full fee (i.e., no mental health insurance coverage) is currently $150 for the initial assessment and $130 for each 50-minute session thereafter.

Crisis and Emergencies

My voicemail will take your calls any time, but I do not carry a beeper and may need up to a day to respond. If you need assistance before I can be reached, you can call the 24-hour King County Crisis Clinic at 206-461-3222. If it is an emergency, please call 9-1-1.

Confidentiality

In general, whatever is said during your sessions with me is held in strict confidentiality, meaning I will not discuss you or our work with anyone else except in my own strictly confidential professional consultation, unless you sign a release of information form allowing me to discuss our work with another person (e.g., your physician, school counselor, previous therapist), or unless a judge orders me to release my records to the court and/or testify. In the State of Washington, all clients age 13 and older are legally required to sign a release of information for mental health information to be shared. This means parents do not have the right to access the minor's counseling records or conversations between therapist and child unless I have written authorization from the minor.

Exceptions to this right of confidentiality, which are protected by state law, are: when there has been physical or sexual abuse or neglect of a child, disabled person, or elderly adult; serious threat or intent to harm oneself and/or others; inability to care for oneself. In all of these situations I am required by law to take necessary steps to secure your safety and/or the safety of others, however, I want to carry out that responsibility in a way that promotes the best counseling or therapy for my client's individual needs. If you have any questions about confidentiality, please discuss them with me.

Court Testimony and Legal Involvement

In order to avoid dual relationships and conflicts of interest, I will provide you or your child with clinical services only. I do not intend to become involved in legal disputes such as personal injury lawsuits, divorce proceedings, dependency hearings or custody battles. These proceedings erode the client-therapist relationship and compromise you or your child's ability to be honest with me during treatment. In addition, I do not participate in evaluation for adoption homes studies or provide evaluations of parental fitness to adoption agencies or Sate entities. By signing this document, you agree:

- That my role is limited to providing treatment and that you will not involve me in any legal dispute;

- That you will instruct your attorneys not to subpoena me or refer in any court filings anything I have said or done;
- That you will not ask for my participation or recommendations in an adoption home study or dependency hearing;
- If there is a court-appointed evaluator in your child's custody or dependency dispute, and if appropriate releases are signed and a court order is provided, I will provide general information about the child which will not include recommendations concerning custody, custody arrangements, or visitations;
- If, for any reason, I am required to provide expert testimony or documentation for a legal dispute, adoption proceeding or dependency case, or to appear as a witness, the party responsible for my participation agrees to reimburse me at the rate of $150 per hour (even in the case of sliding-scale fee clients) for time spent traveling, preparing reports, testifying, being in attendance, and any other case related costs.

Professional Consultation

In order to provide the best service possible, I may seek professional consultation on the dynamics and process of your case. If I discuss your situation, I will not use information that would identify you personally.

Communication

E-mails, cell-phones, computers and faxes are not private. No form of client communication is 100% guaranteed to be private. Conversations can be overheard, e-mails and faxes can be sent to the wrong recipients and phone conversations can be listened to by others. Although they add convenience and expedite communication, it is very important to be aware that computers, e-mail and cell phone communication can be accessed relatively easily by unauthorized people and hence can compromise privacy and confidentiality. If you choose to communicate with me by email, be aware that all e-mails are retained in the logs of your and my internet service providers. While it is unlikely that someone will be looking at these logs, they are, in theory, available to be read by the system administrators of the internet service providers. You should also know that any e-mails I receive from you and any responses that I send to you may become a part of your legal record and may be revealed in cases where your records are summoned by a legal entity. To protect your confidentiality to the best of my ability, my computer is equipped with a firewall, virus protection and passwords and my cell phone is equipped with virus protection and passwords.

Social Media Policies

Per industry standards, my personal social media presence and professional social media presence are separate (ACA code section H.6) and it is not appropriate for me to engage in virtual relationships with my clients (ACA Code A.5.e; NBCC Code section 19). I do not accept friend or contact requests from current or former clients on any social networking site. Please do not use messaging on social networking sites to contact me. Do not use wall postings, @replies, or other means of engaging with me in public online if we have already established a client/therapist relationship. Engaging with me in this way could compromise your confidentiality and it may also create the possibility that these exchanges become a part of your legal medical record and will need to be documented and archived in your chart.

Location-Based Services Reveal Your Location:

If you use location-based services on your mobile phone, you may wish to be aware of the privacy issues related to using these services. If you have GPS tracking enabled on your device, it is possible that others may surmise that you are a therapy client due to regular check-ins at my office on a regular basis.

State of Washington Disclosures

The State of Washington requires that I provide you with the following information.

You have the right both to receive appropriate care and treatment, and to refuse any treatment you do not want. You have the right to choose a Counselor who best suits your needs and purposes. Counselors practicing counseling for a fee must be registered or licensed with the Department of Licensing for the protection of public health and safety. Credentialing of an individual with the Department of Health does not include a recognition of any practice standards, nor necessarily imply the effectiveness of any treatment.

A copy of the acts of unprofessional conduct can be found in RCW 18.130.180. Complaints about unprofessional conduct can be made to:

Health Systems Quality Assurance Complaint
Intake Post Office Box 47857
Olympia, WA 98504-7857
Phone: 360-236-4700
E-mail: HSQAComplaintIntake@doh.wa.gov

Additional Language Required by State Law to Appear on Disclosure Statements

(WAC 308-109-040) Counselors practicing counseling for a fee must be registered or certified with the Department of Licensing for the protection of the public health and safety. Registration of an individual with the department does not include a recognition of any practice standards, nor necessarily implies the effectiveness of any treatment.

The Counselor Credentialing Act’s purpose is (A) to provide protection for the public health and safety; and (B) to empower the citizens of the state of Washington by providing a complaint process against those counselors who would commit acts of unprofessional conduct.

(SHB 1828) You may ask to see the records of any mental health care provided to you kept by this office. You may ask to copy these records. You may ask this office to correct those records, if you believe the information within your record is in error, and a copy of your correction will be placed in those records at your request. This office will not disclose your record to others unless you direct us to do so, or unless the law authorizes/compels us to do so.

Counseling clients are to be informed that they as individuals have the right to choose the counselors who best suit their needs and purposes.

For additional information on state laws governing counseling and client rights, please read the state’s brochure (attached).

Addendum

All clients receiving mental health services at Emmaus Counseling Center are welcome to contact the clinic director, Richard Wemhoff, Ph.D., with any concerns about their treatment at the Center.

By signing this document, you are attesting that you have received, read, fully understand and consent to the disclosures, terms, and conditions above, that you read and fully understand these rights, and have been given the opportunity to ask questions.

By signing this document, you are attesting to your consent to participation in counseling services provided by Joshua Ensley, M.A., LMHC.
